We will have picture day on Friday.

Every student will take a picture for the yearbook no matter whether you want to order pictures or not. Forms should be coming home soon or you can order after you get their proofs.

If your child is sick on Friday, picture retakes will be November 22nd. Only the students who miss this Friday or do not like their original pictures will take retakes.

Just a heads up, I will be out at a training on Monday October 21st. Our classroom assistant, Mrs. D will be here with a substitute teacher. I will talk with the students and try to prep them for that absence.

A Note From Our Speech Therapist:

Give your child choices if he/she is having difficulty responding to a question or directive. Giving choices gives a child a reason to communicate. Giving choices also provides a model for the vocabulary you are using. Choices give children the illusion of control. With that in mind, only present the choices that you are able to provide. Choices can be incorporated throughout daily routines including mealtimes, getting dressed, playtime, and bedtime routines. The possibilities are endless!
